AUDITORIUM.

The management promises a strong bill at this popular little playhouse for the first half of next week, which will be headed by the Labelle Troupe of marvelous tight wire equilibrists and acrobats, who execute the most sensational deeds of Jaring on all invisible wire. These clever people also introduce the best of tumbling and acrobatic work, and the entire act is one big nesday the management have secured Mr. John Ranchan, an eccentric come-dian of tact and ability, who will sure-ly win favor. To put the finishing touches on the bill Miss and Fray will come to the front with a very fast turn in the song and dance line which will surely please.

The photoplays for Monday will be a strong set of the best independent

LORA. THE MYSTERIOUS WOMAN. AT POLI'S.

The special feature at Poli's for the first three days of next week will be Lora, the woman of mystery, known as the "Girl in the Parrot."

Lora is a mystery, and so baffling and that here been seen here in Norwich before. When the curtain rises all that is visible is a large imitation parrot suspended from a bar. In that parrot Lora is enclosed, and from there executes her remarkable feats. Her father and mother go through the audience with a small box. In that box any one in the audience may place any article of jewelry. When the elder Lora calls for the parrot to give a description of the article enclosed, it is harly a moment before the remarkable young lady gives her answer, and invariably it is correct. There is absolutely no sweret mirror work or remarks, who up to then, when young lady gives her answer, and in-variably it is correct. There is abso-lutely no secret mirror work or no word is passed from father to daughter. Lora is looked upon as the greatest living exponent of telepathy, and she and her father have perfected their highly scientific undertaking after more than a dozen years of diligent
